Itronix Expands Partnership with AnythingIT

Fort Lee, New Jersey - February 7, 2004

AnythingIT (AIT), a leader in IT Asset Disposition Services, has expanded its existing trade-in exchange program relationship with rugged wireless, mobile computer manufacturer.

The program will operate under the terms of AIT's existing GSA (General Service Administration) schedule and operate within the requirements of the GSA's Exchange/Sale provision which enables federal, state and local agencies to reduce the costs associated with IT Asset Procurement and Disposition Practices. Additionally, this program fosters an environmentally responsible IT asset disposition solution for Itronix clients throughout the United States and Canada.

"While our partnership with Itronix is not new" comments David Bernstein, AIT's Founder and CEO. "I think the way in which we're developing the partnership to be the focus of the Public Sector customer base is exciting because, as citizens we all have a vested interest in the success of this program."

"The Trade-In/Exchange program allows us to help our prospective customers leverage their existing aging computer assets value, while providing them with state-of-the art mobile computing solutions for their application!" stated Robert Howells, Director of Itronix iCare Services.

AnythingIT and Itronix have expanded our partnership to tackle some of the most challenging IT Asset Management, Procurement and Disposition practices imaginable.
